

Consultation

The first step to planning your new kitchen is to discuss your requirement and consider what can be achieved with your floor space. We will plan the whole project and provide plans and quotations for any (building work etc) that may be required. If we are only commissioned to undertake the installation of your kitchen we will be happy to follow your existing plan.

Preparation

We will remove and dispose of your old kitchen. If required, any (building, plumbing, flooring etc) work will be undertaken before great care is taken with the installation of your new kitchen. We only use qualified and experienced tradesmen so you can rest assured that your project will be professionally managed.

Installation

Your installation will take an average, 2-5 days to complete. However due to the possible complexities of your particular requirements, the care we take over the installation process and any specialist work (building, tiling, decorationg etc), some installations will take longer.

Our kitchen collection adds all appliances and accessories that give your kitchen that special touch.
